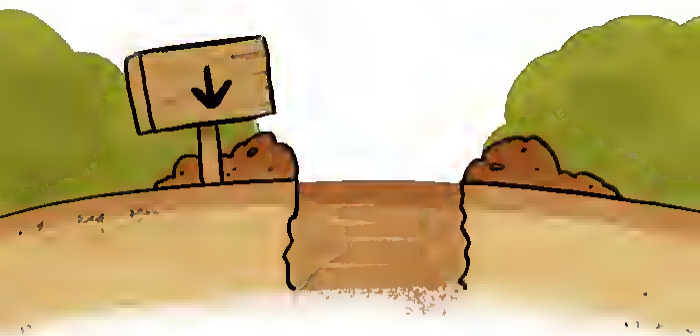
ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Journey To The Center Of The Earth



I find it interesting how the layout of a comic book influences its story telling style.

On traditional comic books, artists can draw horizontal panels on double-spread pages.

But on the webtoon format,

it would be difficult to portray such a scene...

Where is everyone?

Maybe I can try to draw in another way.

ROARSTREETJOURNAL
UP

Nope.

I also saw someone binded a complete comic series into one book.

FOREVER FLIPPING

If it's a complete webtoon series...

FOREVER SCROLLING

Which gives me an idea...

Why not play to the vertical layout of webtoons?

JOURNEY TO THE CENTER OF THE EARTH

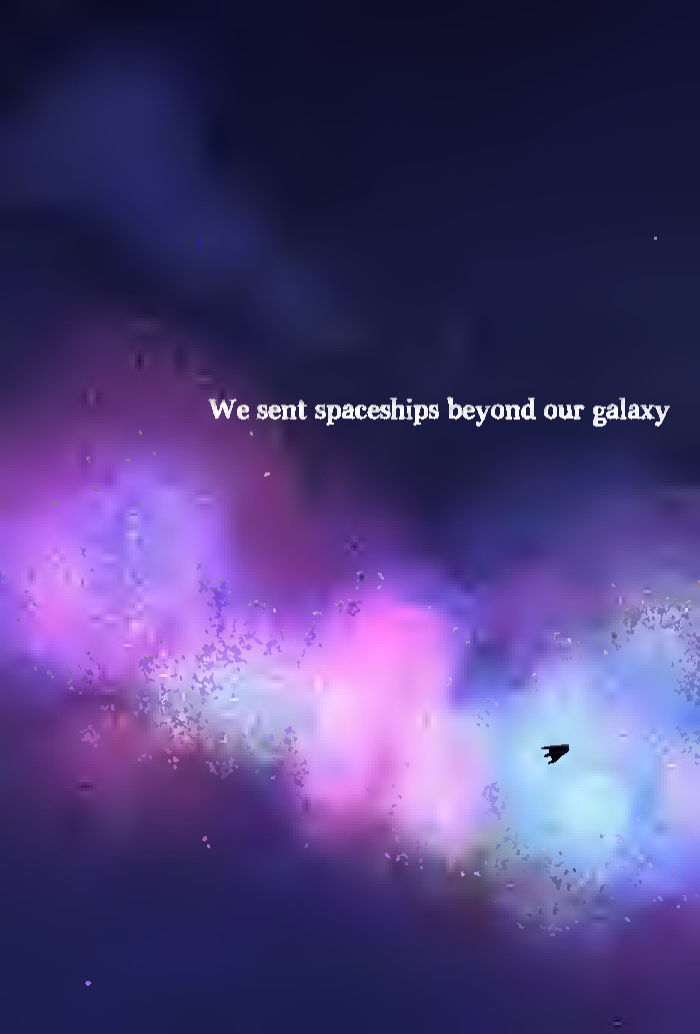
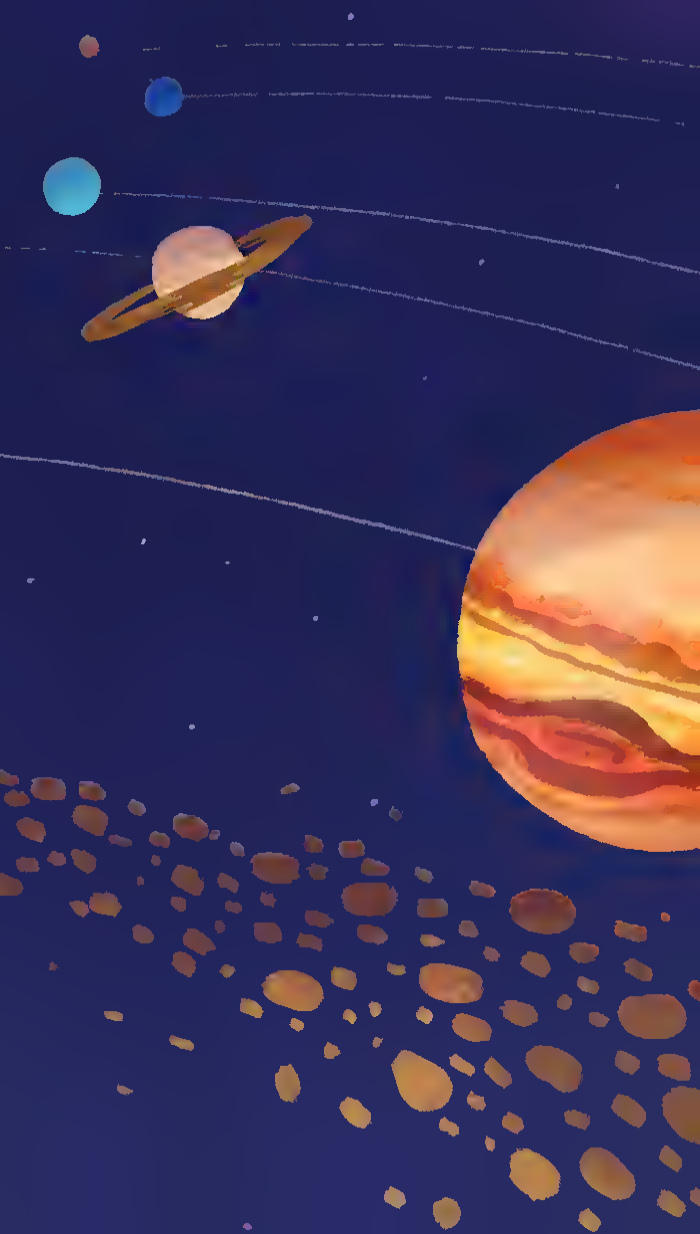
We have come a long way in exploring the outside world.



We sent spaceships beyond our galaxy



Walked on the moon

Analyzed our atmosphere

Flew in the clouds

Climbed the tallest mountains

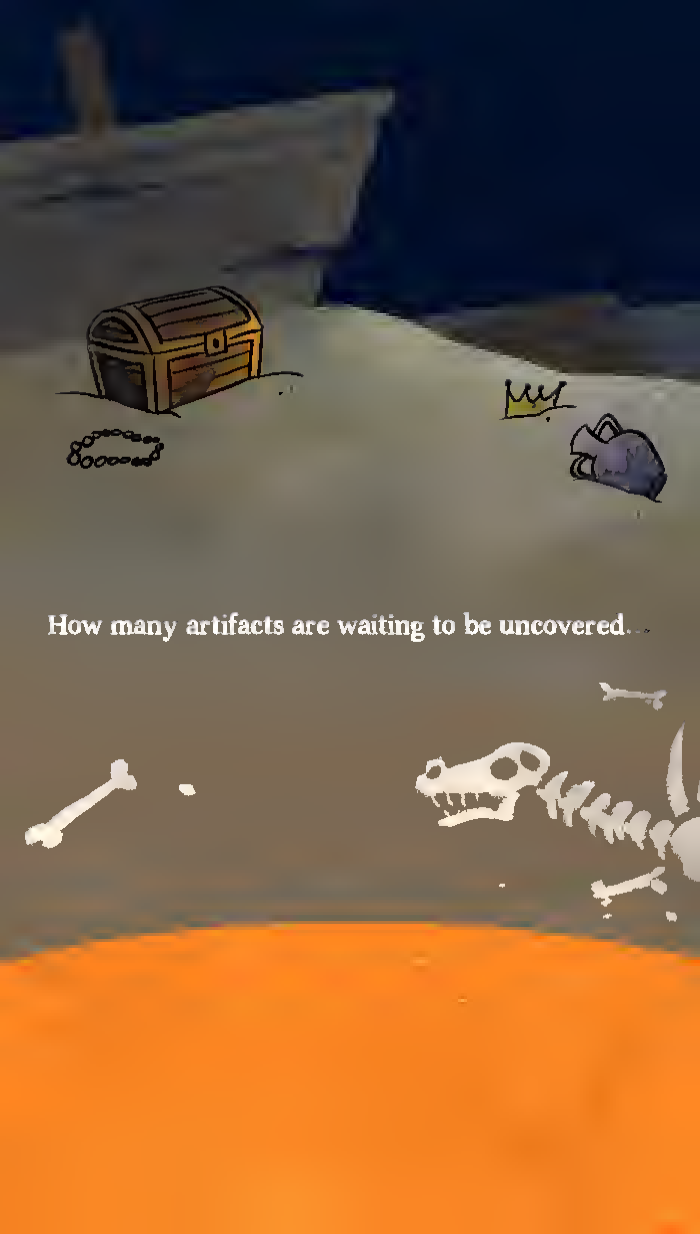
Explored the densest forests

But deep down under,

how much do we know about our own planet?

How many caves are yet to be explored

How much depth is yet to be reached in the oceans



How many artifacts are waiting to be uncovered...

...all buried deep inside

this little planet called Earth.

ROAR STREET
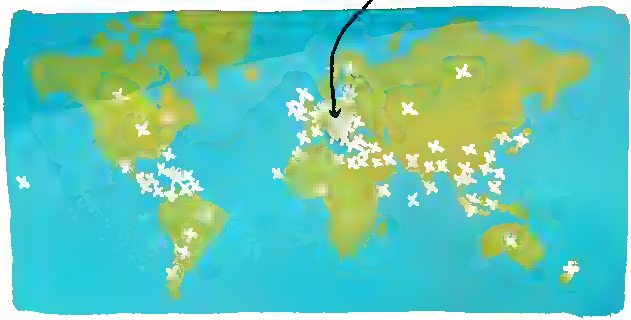
JOURNAL

Animals Around The World #82

YD95

Hi Bonnie I think you forgot to include Switzerland in your list The Swiss national animal is the cow Surprised? Don't be, with her milk we can make our iconic and famous Swiss chocolates and cheeses.

Readers from Switzerland!



Switzerland has no national animal, but the cow is an important part of the local culture and economy. Swiss cows wear bells to keep them from getting lost, keep the evil spirits away from the pasture, and in the old days, reflects the owner's wealth.